Milestones:

January 2, 2008: All juveniles with new offenses are administered a Risk Assessment Instrument (RAI). With this change, some juveniles are not detained at JDC; this is a new practice.

March 19, 2008: Two alternatives to detention are implemented (house arrest and shelter).

May 1, 2008: JDC supervisors are responsible for determining override with detaining authority input except for domestic abuse offenses.

June 11, 2008: JDC supervisors are responsible for determining override with detaining authority input.

August 19, 2008: Another alternative to Detention Implemented (GPS) – GPS temporarily suspended on September 3, 2008.

October 1, 2008: Probation Response Grid is implemented.

November 1, 2008: Juveniles brought to JDC on a warrant for “Failure to Appear at an Initial Hearing” for a Misdemeanor, Petty Misdemeanor or Status Offense (truancy or runaway) will be assessed with the RAI based upon special instruction from the Bench.

January 1, 2009: Juveniles on Active Warrants admitted to JDC are administered a RAI. All assessments with Active Warrants have 3 points added to the total score. Exceptions: All out-of-county warrants continue to be an automatic hold. Juveniles brought in for a Probation Violation Warrant also are an automatic hold (this is temporary while probation officers are trained in new warrant procedures).

January 1, 2009: The mitigating point on the RAI, “Parent/Guardian will take custody—juvenile self report” is changed to “If your child is eligible for release, would you be willing to take custody and ensure your child’s appearance at Court?” This mitigating point is not received unless the parent/guardian affirms this—if the parent cannot be reached, the mitigating point is not given.

January 1, 2009: Pending charges located in CISR/MNCIS are now being counted in the prior offense history section of the RAI.

March 1, 2009: Began using the Statewide Supervision System (SSS) to search for statewide probation supervision records.

March 1, 2009: JW Jail is added to all database searches: new offenses as well as warrants.

March 1, 2009: Probation Violation warrants are no longer Automatic Holds. Judges’ warrant instructions will be honored.

April 1, 2009: Revisions that were discussed at the November workshop were implemented to the RAI.

May 1, 2009: When a juvenile is brought to detention on a warrant, for the current offense section of the RAI, the underlying charge is used. That underlying charge will not be counted in the Prior/Pending Offense History section.

May 1, 2009: All violations of Orders for Protection are mandatory holds (score of 100).

June 1, 2009: The parent/guardian custody question will not be asked for domestic assault cases, regardless of victim. Terroristic threats will be handled in the same way if they occur in the home and a family member is the victim.

June 1, 2009: In cases with multiple warrants, the most serious offense will be used for the Current Offense section. When additional charges are part of the same incident, additional points will not be given.

June 1, 2009: We no longer RAI youth brought in on out-of-county warrants, unless there is also a new charge.

July 1, 2009: RAI staff will contact Project Assist when processing a Domestic Assault RAI release/ATD.
